BACON DOES BRAVE ACT

Assistant Secretary of State Is Truly a Hero.

SAVES YOUTH FROM DEATH

Canoe Capsizes In Charles River and One of the Two Occupants For the Second Time Had Gone Down, but Official Swims to His Relief.

Boston, Oct. 12.—Assistant Secretary of State Robert L. Bacon figured in a heroic rescue on the Charles river. He jumped from the Harvard launch Veritas and swam to the rescue of two boys who had capsized in a canoe. He saved the life of one. The second boy was rescued by J. S. Reed, a student of Harvard, who followed Bacon into the water.

Bacon was returning from up river in a launch. The launch had reached the Cottage Farm bridge when the party saw a canoe capsized some distance away, overturned by the wash of a passing tug. One of the occupants, J. Nutting, a Harvard student, held on to the boat. His companion, however, was swept away and had twice disappeared when Bacon's attention was called to the accident. Bacon dived into the water and struck out for the drowning boys. Almost at the same instant Reed plunged overboard and Bacon yelled for him to take the boy on the canoe while he took the other one. After swimming for nearly fifty-five yards Bacon reached the other boy, who had become unconscious, and was sinking for the last time. Grasping him firmly Bacon turned back towards the launch, which was moving toward him, and the men on the launch drew both on board.

Three Drown.

Nashville, Oct. 12.—Their skiff capsizing while they were crossing the Cumberland river on a hunting trip, Thomas J. Warmack and his two sons, aged twelve and thirteen years, were drowned. Another occupant of the boat, a boy of fourteen, swam ashore.

Young was convicted of the charge of criminally assaulting an old white woman in that parish three weeks ago. When the aged victim identified Young as her assailant a movement was made to lynch the negro, but was averted by the promise of the authorities of a quick trial.

MRS. CHADWICK IS DEAD

Passes Peacefully Away In the Ohio Penitentiary.

SON ARRIVES TOO LATE.

Report Was in Circulation That the Departed Woman Had Told of Her Various Financial Transactions, but This Is Denied.

Columbus, O., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, whose amazing financial transactions culminated in the wrecking of an Oberlin bank, died in the woman's ward at the Ohio state penitentiary at 10 o'clock Thursday night. Mrs. Chadwick had been in a comatose condition for some hours previous to her death, and the end came peacefully. No friends or relatives were at her bedside; only a few prison attendants. Her son, Emil Hoover, had been summoned from Cleveland, but arrived fifteen minutes after his mother had breathed her last.

Mrs. Chadwick embraced the Roman Catholic faith, and was baptized a few days before her death. Thursday morning she received the last anointment.

It was reported that Mrs. Chadwick had made a statement regarding her various financial transactions, and it was expected that if such a statement had been made it would be given to the public after her death. The prison officials declared that she had never made any statement so far as they were aware, and T. E. Powell, her attorney here, also declared she had never made any statement to his knowledge.

Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Bigely, was a native of Woodstock, Canada. She first came into public notice at Toledo, O., about twenty years ago, where she told fortunes under the name of Madame De Vere. While in this city she forged the name of Richard Brown of Youngstown, O., and for this crime was sent to the penitentiary at Columbus for nine years. She served but a portion of her sentence, and then located at Cleveland, where she married a man named Hoover. Her second husband was Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick of Cleveland, a man of good family and excellent standing in his profession.

In the latter part of 1902, or early in 1903, Mrs. Chadwick, in the presence of her husband, gave to Ira Reynolds, the cashier of the Wade Park bank of Cleveland, a box containing notes signed with the name of Andrew Carnegie. These forged notes are alleged to have amounted to $7,500,000. Reynolds gave to Mrs. Chadwick a receipt for the papers, which described the notes and the signatures upon them. Mrs. Chadwick left with Reynolds as an explanation of the existence of the note the statement that she was a natural daughter of Carnegie.

With the receipt of Reynolds in her possession Mrs. Chadwick went to different banks and many capitalists making loans, and paying not only high interest to the banks, but heavy bonuses to the bank officials who loaned her money. The extent of these transactions will never be fully known, but they run up into the millions. They involved men of high standing in the financial world and caused heavy losses to many banks.

In November, 1904, she was sued by a man named Newton of Brookline, Mass., from whom she had borrowed a large amount, which she was unable to pay. Other creditors came down upon her, and within a short time she was placed under arrest by the Federal authorities on the charge of conspiring with Charles Beckwith, the president, and A. B. Spear of a national bank at Oberlin, O., which had been substantially looted. Mrs. Chadwick had obtained from this institution such large sums of money that it was compelled to close its doors, causing heavy losses to the depositors, and ruining many of them.

Mrs. Chadwick, Beckwith and Spear were indicted for a variety of offenses against the national banking laws. Beckwith died before coming to trial. Spear pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, and is now serving time at Columbus, O. Mrs. Chadwick was brought to trial on March 6, 1905, and after a hearing which lasted two weeks, was found guilty of conspiracy to defraud a national bank, and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

The preacher who delivered the following brief but beautiful funeral sermon had the true spirit of his Master: "Post-mortem praises and love are in the air. People stoop to kiss their living; they hover over open caskets in hysteric sobs, but fail to throw their arms about their loved ones who are fighting the stern battle of life. It's a beautiful thing to pay tribute to the dead, but not more beautiful than to succor the living. A word in life is worth more than all the roses in Christendom piled high on the casket cover. The dead can't smell flowers, but the living can scatter them broadcast in their pathway, therefore pluck out the thorns before it is too late."—Macomb (Ill.) Eagle.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Ladies' Choral Club of Bryan has learned with profound regret of the death of Mrs. Mary F. Buchanan at Ronceverte, West Virginia, on the 23d of September. Mrs. Buchanan was the mother of our most highly esteemed ex-president, Mrs. Edward Hall. In this great affliction that has come into the life of our beloved former president it is our desire to express our sympathy and tender our condolence; and this we do both as an organization and as individual friends.

The loss of a mother is irreparable, but in the sadness of it all we hope that this assurance of remembrance and regret will soften the pain and ease the heartache that the hour brings.

STOLE HAT.

Repentant Man Will Send One Dollar to Pay For It.

Sherman, Tex., Oct. 15.—Joel Stinnitt, a dry goods merchant, received the following epistle:

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 11.—Mr. Joseph Stinnitt: Dear Sir—Greeting you in the dear Lord Jesus' holy name, for he has saved my soul and sent the Holy Ghost to witness to my soul that I am a child of God. I once bought a straw hat of you and gave $1 for it. I wore that some time. Then I was in your store one day and was looking over your hats, and I swapped the hat that I had worn for a new one; so you can safely say I stole that hat. Now the Lord with his holy spirit tells me that I must straighten up my past life, all that I have stolen or got dishonestly. If you will answer this letter I will send you $1 for the hat I stole, or to your heirs, if you be dead. I remain your friend in Christ.

Mr. Stinnitt has answered the letter.

TEACHERS' CLANSMAN CONTEST.

The voting contest for the six reserved seats for the performance of "The Clansman," to be given to the lady school teacher receiving the largest number of votes, has opened in a most gratifying manner.

The scholars are already beginning to take a lively interest in the contest. Everybody, young or old, rich or poor, is entitled to one or one thousand votes, the only provision being that the voting shall be done on the voting coupons printed daily in this newspaper. There are several hundred school children and supporters of the public schools in this city.

I cast my vote for ..... in the Teachers' Contest for the performance of "The Clansman" on Thursday, October 24 at the Grand Opera House.

every one of whom should cast at least one vote for the teacher of their choice.

The plan of the contest is very simple. The Eagle will afford the opportunity to one teacher and her friends to witness that great play of the South, "The Clansman," at the opera house on Oct. 24. We have accordingly secured six reserved seats for this performance, and will present them with our compliments to the teacher receiving the largest number of votes.

The successful teacher will be the owner of the seats for the evening and may invite any of her friends whom she desires to share them with her.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

The Daily Eagle

Entered at the Postoffice in Bryan, Texas, as second class matter.

BY CARNES & WALLACE

BRYAN, TEXAS, OCT 16, 1907

There are to be no prayers in the meetings of the Philippine legislative assembly, but it is a safe bet there will be curses enough to even up.

Fish declares: "Nary man is meaner than Harriman." Says Harriman: "Pish! That contemptible Fish is too little wherewith to compare a man."

Bryan ought to be and doubtless will be represented in the inter-coastal waterways convention at Houston. The navigation of the Brazos river means cheap freights and commercial freedom by divine right.

The 'Varsity coach, among the numerous reasons given for not winning the football game at Dallas Saturday, says the players were disturbed by the lions, tigers and elephants belonging to a circus and menagerie loading at Austin. The University athletic association should annex a zoo to its training grounds and familiarize the players with the wild beasts.

A thirteen-year-old boy in a West Texas town had earned $50 working for the telephone exchange. A friend advised him to buy town lots, and on inquiry he found three desirable lots for sale for $60. A friend loaned him $10 and he bought the lots, having the deed made to himself. That was three years ago and the lots are now worth at least $300 and are increasing in value pari passu with the rapid growth of the town. And better still, ever since he became a real estate owner he has had a bank account with the balance on the right side of the ledger.

The grown-ups of course know all about Procrustes, but some of the children may not have heard the story. He was a king in ancient times who had a very high opinion of himself; in fact he thought he was IT in big red letters. The more he thought about it the more he came to believe that everybody who was not exactly like him must be extremely wicked, and it was his duty to reform them. All whose stature exceeded his were too tall and those of less stature were too low. This must not be permitted. So he had a machine made which was called "The iron bedstead of Procrustes." It was exactly long enough for him to lie at full length on it, and he made a law that every man in his dominions should lie down on it and be made to exactly fit it. If he were too long there was a knife to chop him off, and if too short there was machinery to stretch him out to the proper length. Of course a good many people lost their feet and some part of their legs, while others were pulled in two, and there was much suffering. But Procrustes paid no heed to that; he was doing his duty as he saw it. There are yet some people in the world a good deal like Procrustes. They make their own opinions the standard and condemn all who do not think and act just like themselves. Of course they don't torture people, but they annoy them and cause a good deal of unhappiness. It is possible that all of us have in us more or less of the spirit of Procrustes, but it will be a fine thing for the world when his tribe is extinct.

Why send your money away from home for sewing machines when you can buy the best—the Singer—direct from maker in your own town at as low prices and better terms. T. A. Satterwhite, Agent, Bryan, Texas.

NEW TEXTILE MACHINERY AT A & M. Textile School Working in Advance of Cotton Manufacturing in Texas.

The Textile or cotton manufacturing department of the A. and M. College, Prof. J. S. Wier in charge, is in receipt of about fifteen hundred dollars worth of machinery, including a sliver and a comb, which are used in the manufacture of fine yarns. This machinery is not employed in the manufacturing of the kinds of goods now being turned out by the Texas cotton mills, but it is but the question of a short time until they will have need for it, and the A. and M. Textile School, like every other department of this practical institution, proposes to have Texas boys trained for the work of successfully operating it.

The cotton manufacturing industry in Texas is in a very prosperous condition; all the mills are making money and adding to their equipment in amounts from seventy-five to one hundred thousand dollars. It is very clear that the experimental stage has been passed by the Texas mills, and that hereafter they will go on increasing in number and importance. Bryan should certainly not long delay the building of a mill; especially in view of the fact that she has the advantage of the State's Textile School at her very doors.

OLD KU KLUX TESTIFY.

Old members of the Ku Klux Klan in North and South Carolina were interviewed when "The Clansman" was produced recently amid the scenes where the story is laid. Captain Frank West of Spartanburg, S. C. said: "From the opening scene the play was thrilling, and a true picture of the carpetbag days as I remember them." Captain Darnell spoke as follows: "The situations were dramatic in the extreme and so realistic that they took the old Clansmen right back to the bygone days when they rode and fought in defence of their loved ones and of all that they possessed." Everywhere throughout the South the former members of the order have nothing but praise for "The Clansman." The famous reconstruction drama will be seen here on Thursday, Oct. 24, at the opera house.

MUSIC HALL ATTRACTIONS AT DALLAS FAIR.

The Music Hall program will eclipse in attractions and in repertoire of artists everything in that line that the management has heretofore been able to secure. Among the dominant features of each day's program will be Seymour's band of forty-five members; Delamotte's quartette in condensid acts from popular operas such as "Carmen," "The Bohemian Girl," "Trova-tore," "Lucie de Lammermoor" and others; Sugimoto's famous Japanese troupe of acrobats; Moving Pictures in the storm scene from the "Prince of India," Unita and Paul, gymnasts and contortionists; Lamb's Merry Manikens; and many other attractions. There will be three programs given each day free to visitors to the Fair.

There is beauty, grandeur, sublimity in factory smoke as it pours in full volume from the top of a tall chimney and mounts up into mid-heaven in ever widening convolutions or is wafted away on the wings of the breeze. The gon-falon of industry, of prosperity, of liberty—the free winds of heaven never caressed a banner of bunting or of satin so hallowed with the purest and loftiest associations.

'Varsity evidently has cold feet on the proposition to play the A. and M. at Houston Nov. 6; and some say that the 'Varsity boys are afraid of animals. In fact their coach is quoted as saying they are unable to rest when there's lions and tigers and elephants around.

Weak Kidney.

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidneys. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, find their weakness, not in the organs themselves, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

ENGLISH TRAIN WRECK.

Believed to Be Due to Disregard of Instructions.

DEATH LIST IS SIXTEEN.

Standing Rule as to Speed Turning a Curve Evidently Not Obeyed, Cars and Locomotive Leaving the Rails and Being Piled Up.

Shrewsbury, Eng., Oct. 15.—A train made up the passenger coaches bound from Scotland and the north of England to Bristol left the rails as it was entering the station here at an early hour Tuesday morning. Sixteen persons, including ten passengers, were killed and many injured.

The London and Northwestern railroad, on which the train was running, curves sharply as it nears Shrewsbury, and there is a standing order that engineers must not exceed a speed of ten miles per hour at that point. Disregard of his order is believed to have been the cause of the accident.

The engine and all cars with the exception of the last one left the rails, and when officials from the railroad station reached the spot the cars were a tangled mass of wreckage, beneath which were the bodies of the dead and injured. Fortunately the wreck did not catch fire, and doctors and salvage crews, who soon reached the scene, did not have this added danger to fight. In the darkness and a pouring rain, which, however, retarded the work of rescue, and several hours elapsed before the last body was taken out.

The killed included the engineer, firemen, guards and postal clerks, the latter in the mail car, immediately behind the engine.

SUBMISSION DATE SET.

Waters-Pierce Receivership to Be Heard Oct. 21.

Austin, Oct. 11.—The court of civil appeals for the Third district has granted the motion of the state for an advance of the Waters-Pierce Oil company receivership case and it was set for submission on Oct. 21. The oil company wanted the ouster and receivership case consolidated.

The hearing before the railroad commission regarding the commission's recent order applying short line passenger rates between points in the state was brought to an abrupt termination shortly after the hearing began by Commissioner Mayfield announcing that the question would be postponed until the November hearing. General passenger agents were here in large numbers to protest against the proposed order and to endeavor to demonstrate to the commission that it was unjust. General Passenger Agent Anderson of the Sunset-Central began his argument, by citing rates from El Paso to Fort Worth, and that under the proposed order the rate from El Paso to Fort Worth would be the same on his line and the Texas and Pacific, although the Katy gets a division of the rate, it being the connecting line between San Antonio and Fort Worth.

Vernon Beggs, secretary of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, has filed an application with the railroad commission for a hearing on the question of the physical condition of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, which he claims is bad.

DORCHESTER SEES PIERCE

Latter Says He Will Visit Texas at the Proper Time.

Sherman, Tex., Oct. 12.—C. D. Dorchester, Federal receiver of the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Texas, who has been in St. Louis for several days, has returned home.

While there Mr. Dorchester met Henry Clay Pierce. He expressed to the receiver satisfaction at the progress of the business under court direction, and his belief that he will be dealt with justly thereby.

He did not refer to the oft repeated determination of Governor Campbell to have him back in Texas, but stated to Mr. Dorchester his intentions to, at the proper time, visit the state, and does not seem to find in the situation any cause for alarm for his personal or property interests.

Yotaw, Tex., Oct. 15.—Hardin county has had a terrible mishap. There were several others hurt. Saturday news reached here that a young man named Wiggins was expected to die. It seems they had started a fire in the furnace when they discovered there was no water in the boiler. Young Davis was putting water in when it burst. The mill was wrecked.

It Will Be One of the Most Extensive in the State.

Gainesville, Tex., Oct. 15.—A creamery, said to be one of the largest in Texas, will soon be in operation here, projected by local capital. About $5,000 worth of machinery has been ordered and the plant will be running in a few weeks.

It is estimated that $40,000 a year is received by Cooke county farmers for cream shipped to other towns, and this had a great influence in causing the creamery to be built here.

LARGE SUM TAKEN.

Kirby Lumber Company Loses Much Money.

Beaumont, Oct. 14.—The safe in the commissary of the Kirby Lumber company at Silsbee was robbed of between $7,000 and $8,000. The money taken was to have been used to pay off the woods crew of the woods crew of the Kirby Lumber company at Silsbee. T. M. Hunter, the paymaster of the company, passed through here Saturday en route to the various mills in east Texas on his monthly mission to pay off the men. He paid off the employees at Silsbee Saturday, and that night deposited in the commissary safe his satchel, containing about $8,000, tram road leading from Silsbee into the woods to pay the men employed in cutting timber. Being Saturday night, and the bank at Silsbee not being open, due to the fact that he expected to leave early in the morning was the reason for depositing the money in the commissary safe. The burglary was not discovered until Sunday morning, when Mr. Hunter went to get the money. It was found that the safe had been opened and the satchel containing the money was missing. The silver and small change was not disturbed.

The safe was opened by working the combination, and the safe was again locked after the money was taken, and was found closed and locked Sunday morning, and readily opened when the combination was applied, showing no damage to the combination.

An alarm was given as soon as the burglary was discovered, and every preparation was made for a systematic search for the thieves.

EBERS MORTALLY SHOT.

Wealthy Citizen of San Antonio Was Wounded Five Times.

San Antonio, Oct. 14.—Paul Ebers, one of the wealthiest citizens of this city, was found in a dying condition in a clump of bushes in front of the residence of Mrs. Clarence Barbe Ford. He was shot five times. Paul Barbe, a brother of Mrs. Ford, telephoned the police he desired to surrender. He was placed under arrest. Ebers said Barbe had shot him. Ebers was recently divorced from his wife, who is still a resident of this city. The divorce case was a pathetic one. His wife was a young girl, reared by Eber's mother in Germany, and after he came to America she followed him and they were married at Galveston. They lived together only a few years.

The residence of Mrs. Ford is one of the most elegant in San Antonio. She is a member of a leading family. Her mother recently moved to Louisiana. Paul, her brother, and a sister are visiting Mrs. Ford.

Ebers is the principal owner of the Art store and also possesses three west Texas ranches. He was in the German army, being an officer of high rank. The cause of the shooting is unknown.

THRILLING SIGHT.

Head-on Collision of Two Locomotives Was a Success.

Fort Worth, Oct. 14.—Over 20,000 people saw the prearranged head-on collision of two locomotives at the fair grounds Saturday. The engines started at either end of a quarter-mile straight track and came together with a crash in front of the grand stand. Both engines were of the old abandoned type, and not capable of any very high rate of speed. They were under full steam, however, when they came together, and there was enough of realism about the mimic railway catastrophe to excite the crowd.

After the locomotives had locked together in a death grip an immense cloud of smoke and escaping steam rolled up from the site, obscuring the wreckage. Small pieces of iron flew for a short distance in several directions, but as the crowd was some 500 feet away, no one was injured. The engineers jumped in time to avoid the crash. The whistle of one of the locomotives, which had been left open, blew for thirty minutes after the crash came, and the sound emanating from the dense mass of smoke and steam and dust produced a weird effect.

SLAIN SMOKING.

Negro Who Did the Deed Also Numbered With the Dead.

Texarkana, Oct. 14.—While seated on his front porch Sunday with his feet propped up, E. M. Sumner, a white man, was shot and instantly killed by Monroe Ballard, a negro preacher. Two shots were fired, both striking vital spots.

Ballard barricaded himself in his home, and when the officers and crowd of citizens went to arrest him he opened fire on them.

The officers returned the fire and the negro fell, riddled with bullets, and died an hour later. The two dead men resided in adjoining houses. Ballard became angered because Sumner had persuaded the landlord to order him to vacate because he was a negro.

Tulsa, I. T., Oct. 15.—Geronimo, the famous Apache, a prisoner of war, accompanied by his eighth wife and his daughter, passed through Tulsa en route to Collinsville, where he is to be the guest of honor at the last Indian war dance and powwow. The old warrior looked tired and worn, but through his interpreter said it was trouble on his mind that made him appear weary.

Discussing the subject of his visit and the probable effect it might have, Geronimo said: "The celebration at Collinsville is a religious rite, and not a bloodthirsty affair. I will discuss matters of vital concern affecting the fullbloods in the new state and their spiritual welfare. The Spirit Father in the clouds has sent a message to all Indians, and I will deliver it to them while the dance goes on. I have made peace with my Master, and my theme is to lead my people safely across the broad field of peace to eternal happiness. I am no longer an old Apache warrior, who killed and scalped men merely for pleasure, but am old, full of sorrow and regret."

TRIO LYNCHED.

Two Negroes Hanged to Telegraph Pole, Third Shot to Death.

Tunica, Miss., Oct. 12.—Three negro men were lynched here for a series of burglaries. Two were hanged to a telegraph pole and the other was shot to death.

The negroes were Will Jackson, Jim Shonts and George Robinson. They had been placed in the Tunica jail, where they admitted a series of burglaries covering about ten years.

The negroes were spirited away from the jail, and the sheriff and his deputies claim that they do not know what hour the prisoners were taken. The sheriff testified at a coroner's inquiry that the negroes' captors must have sneaked in while he and his assistants were out, and that they used the jail keys, for he found the cells locked and apparently undisturbed when the regular rounds were made later.

It was the mob's intention to hang all three, but after Jackson and Shonts had been hanged, Robinson broke out of a barn, where he was being held, and was shot as he fled.
